KEY FACTS

- Three credit score models are approved for loans sold to Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac: Classic FICO (FICO Scores 2, 4 and 5), VantageScore 4.0, and FICO Score 10T.
- Classic FICO is accepted everywhere. VantageScore 4.0 has been eligible for conventional delivery since April 22, 2026, and FHFA directed on September 3, 2026 that all lenders be approved to use it. FICO Score 10T is approved but not yet accepted for delivery to Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac.
- Every conventional loan still requires a credit report from all three bureaus (a tri-merge). FHFA said on September 3, 2026 that it is seriously considering a two-bureau report; no rule has been issued.
- A lender delivers one score model per loan and may choose the model loan by loan. Classic FICO and VantageScore 4.0 price on separate loan-level price adjustment grids.
- FHA is expected to accept all three models for case numbers dated on or after January 1, 2027, and to keep the three-bureau report. VA has no score model requirement. Non-QM and portfolio programs are set by each investor.
- Rapid rescoring corrects the underlying credit data, so it works under every model.
